On June 3rd a tornado swept through the Cardinal Stritch gym, and it swirled it's graduates into space. When the gym dropped they saw they were somewhere over the rainbow.

The time is now ten years later, and tripping along the yellow brick road we meet Dr. Stachowicz who is now practicing dentistry. He and his tripping assistant Laura Imhoff are now approaching their office which lies directly caddy corner from Mary Sue "Betty Corcker" Bihn's Bakery Shop. As we pass we stop in to say hello to Mary and her bosom cousin Denny who's ten billion acres of farm land supply the huge chain of Luppy Luda's Hamburg Joints. Denny goes on to tell that Cheryl Wolgamuth and Dave Rayner finally took the vows, with Father Juhasz performing the ceremony.

Strolling down Pickle Avenue we see Ray "Son of Schlagheck" Schmidt doing his same old job. How's the school doing Ray? He goes on to say that Sr. Andaverde has just received her promotion, she's now assistant principle under the direction of Monsignor Simko. We stopped in to see Monsignor Simko who told us he has been counseling Ted Hill and Tim Weigand after they were released on charges of smuggling a small box with hashish contained in it, but after an investigation led by Lt. Columbo Bacon, it turned out it wasn't hashish but the cremated body of a relative.

As we were leaving Stritch we saw Louie Agoston "The Runner" I yelled out "Louie, Why ya slowing down?" He replied, "Because I married Walker". Further on down we met Bill Schmidt. Bill is a carpenter now and has just completed the first and only Schmidt house. Oh speaking of Schmidt house, Rob Johns has hit success. His slogan is "Buy Rob's Johns." We'll think of you Bob, your number one in the number two business and that's no bull.

I spy a dress shop on my left, Mary Hoffmans Boutique, right next door to "Frank's Kingsize". His slogan is "Have more with Hymore". Leaving the shop we run into the Toledo County Clerk, Audrey Eishen who tells us of the marriage that might take place in the coming years:

If Bob Gladieux married Jocilyn Loub, we'd have Bob Loub.

If Chris Hickman married Linda Greenburg, you'd get a hickburg.

If Margy Reinbolt married Jackie Cannaday you'd get a Cannonbolt.

If Ron Duwve married Denny McDonald, you'd get Ronald McDonald.

If Pat Power married Denise Drill, you'd get a Holy Pretzel.

If John Bird married Suzy Schmidt, you'd have Bird Schmidt.

As we leave her precognitions we grab a paper and find that Pat Kamelesky, the coach of Cardinal Stritch has just returned to the playing field after being laid up for a week with a bad coed. . . ah, cold.

A banner headline attracts my attention. Mary Beth Fejes now owns a chain of A&P stores. WE00000000 how Mary's prices have changed.

Pam Haley is now drag racing for Mercury, a division of Ford Motors. She is now running under the eight second mark in her so-called Haley's Comet.

Two of our uniformed veterans of the football field are now doing their national duty and have changed uniforms. Shari Mehlman is an Air Force nurse and blows reveille on her famous cornet to get those boys up and flying, while Diana Leonhardt is sitting as the fifth chair trumpet in the navy band and is tooting a different tune.

Joni Novak has made the Guinness World Records; they have just completed the first foot transplant, only they put it in her mouth.

Chuck Frazier is also in the book of world records. He was beaten in two seconds in the first round by Willie White---sorry Charlie.

And Willie is doing fine and dandy these days himself. Toliet paper is now his business, he calls it Willie Whitecloud. His miraculous tissue is not only disposable but reusable.

Speaking of tollet paper, no one can forget Judy Labiak our Toliet Paper Queen. It is noted that she still squeezes the Charmin but she says it doesn't feel like "toliet paper".

I lay down the magazine when I hear music coming out of the local hot spot, "Beener and Weiner's Bar and Grill". To my amazement it's John Myers and Michele Verkin singing their new hit song, "Your My Sugar Daddy".

There we run into Cindy Crossgrove. She has just found out that forgoing prepares you for an interesting career in making license plates.

Dave Mackey, the bartender also tells us about the people he has met; that the easiest people to see through are the ones that make specticles of themselves.

In the corner we see Sue Hall. "Who is that with her?" Why it's Pope John Mang XXIII. He has just aquired some new church property near a pond, there is a sign that says, "No Swimming, no fishing, and no walking on the water."

On the dance floor we see two topless dancers-Bill Burcin and Larry Kamann dancing to that new hit song by Paul McCartney, "Maybe Ira Maze".

After having one too many I staggered down the steps of the bar observing a giant billboard designed by Mat Chovaned, which says, "Coming attraction: Chalane no-tangle-Langle vs. Kung Fu at Covill Hall."

Since we are getting thirsty we stop in a party store where we find Debbbie Schlegel and Denise Jacoby who tell us that they've just bought out Mark Lawson's chain of party stores and are "throwing up the profits". While walking out we bump into the "Odd Squad", Katheleen Kundrath, Tom McGreevy and Jodi Stegall. If you meet them at 4 o'clock in the morning in an alley don't fight them, they're narcs.

Next stop is "The First Durst Playboy House"-some of Joe's hot bunnies include Anna the "Fox", "Sandy the sinner Cincala", "Nancy the fairest" Feher and Dawn the Cherry. Here comes Dandy Dan Heintschel hoppin down those bunny tails. Hoppity hop hop Dan is on his way!

Riding by the old hang-out Pizza Hut we might be able to catch a glance at Rick Palombi still waiting for the old crows to pop in. As usual, sitting with him is Ann McIlargey. Poor Ann, she is just sitting with Rick, waiting for what--who knows? And if you Ann, she dosen't know either.

Remember good old Marty Hanley and Janet Henningson? They dyed their hair from red to purple so they wouldn't stand out.

Randy Schnee found out that to grow a beard it takes a lot of hair. Ray Bovee grew six inches, gained 80 pounds and became Mr. America. Mark Sullivan has recently acquired a job teaching General Studies. Warren Stacy has opened up a business of his own also. It is a doughnut store specializing in jelly rolls.

I feel a little tipsey now and feel worse when I run into Julie Graher and Joe Marazon. After ten years of marriage there is still no job and according to Julie the reason is "Joe can't get into it".

Remember Jane Schlageter? Well she's still partying. B.G. hasn't been the same since her arrival, but after ten years you'd think she'd be out of her freshman year.

Picking up the magazine we find that many of our students have made national fame.

John Peiffer and Mike Sanislo have turned professional racing in parking lots across the country.

Kim Reeves has recently become the Rona Barrett of Muchnkin Land and here's some of her latest scoops:

The well-known composer Heidi Lang and Rick Glauser have gotten a divorce. Gee what happened to that beautiful music they made while they were married?

Andy Lodzinski, now working for WSKI recently played the Polish national anthem backwards for 30 minutes and nobody noticed.

Don Mutchler is really sucking in the doe. He is selling Hoover Vacuum cleaners.

Chris Posadny is now working in Hollywood dubbing the voice of Donald Duck.

Sue Ziebold is bringing the money in. She is a high fashion model for an Ironing Board Company.

Norma Kashmer the famous designer of Kasy Kasher sweaters is finally getting married to Mike Gerrier, gee he must have caught her with a long jump.

Holly's Ruff-reigel's, a well known motorcycle gang have gotten into a fight with Helsley's Angels.

Pat Mominee and Jeri Johnston are now decoupageing Joan Vandebroeck's tulip company and my God they are still writing Second Coming.

Rosie Ello, that out-going girl, well she's sitting home now with ten kids making sure they brush their teeth ten times a day.

Ken Callahan, well we all know he would excell in science, he is now working for NASA cleaning out the holding tanks of the returning spaceships.

Mary Jean Mravec is now a stewardess with Havanna International Airline and that's why you see so many parachuters on that route.

Mary Marshall in now studying Law to be Marshall, Marshall with Deputy Dan Douglas as Sidekick.

We have just received word that Mike Csartos has become President of a foot pad company. His slogan is "use Csartos for your sore toes".

Denny Haynes has sold his panty hose company to Steve Tscherne who says, "Our Legs fit your legs".

Sharon Morgillo is still working at Stritch writing class Prophecies and trying to get at least one accepted.

Janis Farkas was awarded the Fickle Finger of Fark award.

Dan Kerekgyarto has spent his life savings on buying a giant bathtub so that he can float his entire naval fleet in it.

Dave Vieth is walking in Daddy's footsteps, but only he is counseling kindergardeners.

Mattel has come up with a Clinker toy, push its tummy and it grows hair.

John Johnson is now a CPA dealing mainly with Hunkies and Pimps.

Annette Maczko has come up with a new mini golf course called, "Putz's Putt-Putts".

Floyd Zitsman has disappeared after he invented a chemical to eliminate zits.

Denise Fowler (Fowl Air) has waged a war on air pollution in order to clear her name.

Nick Pasztor is now living in a garbage can in back of a Union 76 Station.

Rick Harris has worked his way up to window girl at McDonalds.

Paul Nowak and Jesse Cortez were last seen grasshopping in California.

Linda Gelacik, Diane Garza, Debbie Bishop and Debbie Okenka have started a Mike Coughlin fan club.

Joe Maros found his long lost brother and now we can rely on two-Maros.

Denny Maas is now in training for the Harlem Maas-Trotters but because of discrimination he is spending a fortune on Black Shoe Polish.

Diane Romo has finally matured,- Romo wasn't built in a day.

Jim and Bob are now dating Pam Graver, but they are fighting over who's Gladieux I and who's Gladieux II.

Brenda Heuring has dedicated her life to helping the deaf. She has developed new and improved Heuring aides.

Sue McQuery has now married Wilt Chamburlain and now they can really get into the game.

Diane Sopko has come along way since Homecoming Queen. She now works in Disneyland as a Disney character, where her famous walk is now the waddle of Donald Duck.

The McGarry sisters have opened their boutique and they are selling brand named clothes such as, Brenskelle's Britches and Kathy Garvin's Garments.

I just can't believe how our class has succeeded. Everyone seems happy. Tina Stuller (business woman) is now running a successful Stool Shop, selling toilet stools for Rob Johns Business.

Apples are great according to Debbie Abbeglem who is now running her Appleglen.

Becky Lentz is working at the Pickle docks those hard hours still. She's really bringing in those $$ "dillers" $$.

And Mike Garac is still working back stage as a censor for the Johnny Karczak Show, where we last saw the team of Wilson & Quinlan doing their thing of "Go Guys Go". Linda Sopko is also guest on the show. She switched from Spanish to Hungarian singer and now she sings that hit recording of "I Get on My Little Hunky".

Durk Eckenrode is now in the cold cut business. His slogan is "Eckenrode-We make it better for you". Baloney- Eck!

Kathy Uhlman had a baby last week. Her and her husband now share that Uhlman joy.

Mary Alice Gallagher has opened a chain of restrooms called "Alice's Restrooms".

Carol Pastorek and Cathy Geisel have been friends for some time now. Carol still refers to her as "Old Faithful Geisel".

Joanne Springer has returned to her Alma Mater to teach Deca. Mike Quilter is following his inherited political urges, but will probably be done in by his opponent's catchy saying- Cheryl Coehrs.

Marquerite Alverado is trying to create a market for Pink Avacadoes. Anyone for a colorful salad?

MARy Gadus, MARGaret Allan, MARsha Sampsell, MARa McDaniel have all joined together to form their own movement MAR. Men Are Rotten.

One of our classmates has met up with a terrible fate, but Sandy's lawyer got her off the hook and now she's just on parolee.

Karen Sinay has visited Rome and saw the mountain bearing her name Mount Sinai.

Kay Kazmerek was last seen on the "Let's Make A Deal Show" where she made a deal to trade in her red and black freckles stating that she was tired of those colors anyway. And when her chosen curtain opened, she discovered that she had won a red and black spotted mink, washing machine and car. It's a good thing she's so Stritch minded!

As we were walking along in this year 1983, we spotted a UFO in the air and when it got closer we discovered it was a flying carpet.

As it hit the ground we noticed the Geanies were Genie Chabon, Genie Sr. Mary and Genie Mrs. Fraker. They held a bottle which contained Father Leyland who decided to become a hermit after the Class of '73 went out into the world. We told them of our predicament and so they poofed us back into 1973 and here we are.
